

HWPP Newsletter

PSE

Wishing all our daddies a wonderful day building memories with their children. We hope your child has presented you with your card and gift which they made with so much care. We look forward to hearing all the antics they got up to over the forthcoming days. Some quotes from some of the children on how they view their daddy.....

"My daddy is big and strong," by Connor

"My daddy works very hard but I would like him to play with me more," by Lewis

"My daddy is a superhero," by Theo

UNDERSTANDING OF THE WORLD

Enjoying Beach Life

We were blessed with gorgeous weather albeit perhaps a trifle too hot for the children but we decided to go on holiday to the Maldives and enjoy the beach for a few days. They absolutely loved it. Hopping in and out of the paddling pool, taking turns, sharing buckets and spades, building all sorts of things with the sand; castles, garages, mermaid caves - the imagination was rife. As well as all the water fun, the children learnt about the seashore, what they may find whilst walking along it and we entertained so many wonderful adjectives and new nouns, some real tongue twisters, i.e., 'anemone' - it was a delight to hear.

The children also made water infusions with summer berries and citrus fruits which complemented our healthy eating week but also kept them cool.

Caterpillar's Consultation Meetings

If you have yet to have consultation meeting with your key person or supervisor, please remember to choose a date and time on the form.

We would like to finish these this week. Thank you.

Healthy Eating Week - A huge success

Well, what can we say but the children embraced last weeks healthy eating week with true aplomb! We spoke about the different food groups and how important it was to have a varied diet. Each day the lunch boxes were inspected and we saw some great lunches - a special mention to Anastasia who had a wonderful pasta salad as well as Raffy and Henry B with their different compartments which allowed for a taste of everything. The highlight undoubtedly was our school canteen day on Thursday where both cohorts got stuck into the jacket potatoes with a choice of cheese and beans or both. Butterflies took on role play and collected their plate and cutlery and went on to be served by dinner lady Julia. They carefully took it to the table, ate and cleared away - fantastic work. It was so popular we had many children come up for seconds asking 'Can I please have some MORE'. We shall consider baking potatoes on a regular basis next term.

Please remember to bring you Food sheets completed so we can discuss them in class and the children can receive their certificate - we have only had a handful returned. Thank you.

Book of the week for Caterpillars:

Octopus's Garden by Ringo Starr

Book of the week for Butterflies:

Octopus Escape Again by Laurie Ellen Angus

Communication and Language (C&L) & Literacy

The focus will be upon the what lies beneath the ocean, what marine animals we can identify and how can we help preserve them. We will be naming the different oceans around the world and linking them to continents, so please do help with this as it's a tricky one to remember.

N umeracy

Reflection on days of the week and seasons. Measurement and weight - we shall be remeasuring the children to compare and estimate how much they have grown.

Expressive Arts

Children will continue to prepare for the leaver's concert and will create a volcano ready to erupt by the end of the week.

Physical

All the children will be practising a host of races ready for sport's day. Butterflies will have a go at hockey to encourage spatial awareness and hand and eye coordination (this was put on hold last week due to the hot weather).

HWPP Photos

Tuesday 20th June 2023

From 8.30am

Please note the photographer will be setting up outside first thing Tuesday morning. Photos will commence for those of you who wish to have siblings included from 8.30am. Those who do not have siblings then they will be taken once everyone is registered and signed in. There will also be class photos too for mementoes. Please allow the photographer time to set up before pouncing on him. I will be monitoring it and families are asked to be patient and to wait in an organised queue.

ALL CHILDREN TO WEAR HWPP UNIFORM - joggers & sweatshirt with white/pink/blue polo please - children can change into shorts as soon as the photos are finished.

Butterflies to remember to bring in name PE kit to do sport's day preparation - Thank you
